OPEN HOUSE SLATED AT UD ARTIFICIAL INTELLIGENCE LAB

DAYTON, Ohio -- A newly established laboratory at the University of Dayton is designed to help computer science, business and engineering students develop new ideas and innovative applications for artificial intelligence.

An open house for the interdisciplinary artificial intelligence and engineering analysis laboratory will be held from 4:30 to 6:30 p.m. Thursday, June 20, in Kettering Laboratories Room 433 on campus. The event is open to the public with reservations due by June 17 to Nancy Wilson at (513) 229-2736.

The open house will feature demonstrations of the lab's Sun Microsystems SPARCStation IPC running software such as Patran, SCADA, PV-Wave, Prologue, Guru and Slam II & Tess.

UD's artificial intelligence and engineering analysis laboratory is a shared computing facility for the School of Business Administration, School of Engineering and computer science department.

For more information on the open house, call (513) 229-2736.
